- Manage the growth of your site regardless of complexity and size
- Work brilliantly for any team size from single webmaster environment to large corporate communication departments
- Compliant, secure and accessible websites with in-built search engine optimisation tools

the key features of Punch CMS

Easy browser based content authoring

Create web pages anywhere by any user with our browser based WYSIWYG editing tool. No html skills, training or any additional software is required. Authors simply type into our editor, add images, animations or videos from the media library and insert them in predefined templates, preview and submit for publication.

Powerful document management

Share, version, categorise, search, build and publish your own document store with a few simple clicks.

Unlimited content authoring distribution

Encourage and empower users to contribute to your website. You can have as many users as you need. Unlimited number of additional administrators and editors.

Powerful workflow and content approval

Distribute authoring requires powerful approval systems to maintain the quality of the content and design. All pages must have full approval before going live. No content can be published by accident. Workflow and approval processes are flexible and simple to set-up. No technical skills are required. Punch CMS also includes powerful audit and versioning tools.

Flexible design and navigation

Create templates using standard web technology. This means there is complete flexibility in the look and feel of your site. Limitless creative opportunities.

Personalised content delivery

Manage all your content, not only your website. The same content can be delivered in any format. You control who sees what content and when depending on their profile. Punch CMS will route them to the appropriate content or site. Unlimited sites supported by Punch CMS.

Powerful functionality as standard

Fully featured content management system including content authoring, content management, document management and workflow functionality that you would expect from a leader in its class. In addition Punch CMS has many modules so you only pay for the functionality that you need and you have a system that meets your exact requirements.

Integration and interoperability

Integrate seamlessly with your existing management systems.

Rapid implementation

The biggest cost of any content management system is the cost of delay or the cost of doing nothing. Because Punch CMS requires no client software and is based on industry standard software, Solutions can implement Punch CMS including a redesign of your website very rapidly giving you a real business advantage with low implementation costs and a quicker return on investment.

Resilience and reliability

With its unique architecture a single server can support almost unlimited content without a deterioration of service allowing you to focus on your business.

Security

Include a powerful LDAP compatible user control module, if necessary a secure socket layer can protect the administration section. Solutions can provide the highest level of digital security including user certificates, virus scanning and virtual private networks.

modular design

No two organisations are the same. Each has their own systems, methods and requirements which is why Punch CMS has a fully customisable design. The modular way to manage content is easy, innovative and effective.

Solutions will never dictate how you should work, but we will work with you to not just show you what Punch CMS could do for you - we'll put it into the context of your existing skills and IT strategy. Our consultancy services draw on Solutions' long history of technology provision. We're old hands at large-scale networking, development, server provision, retrofitting legacy systems... in short, at making things work in the real world.

Add extra functionality to your site whenever needed by using plug-in modules. All Punch CMS modules are permission based and individually configurable – so they fully integrate with the core system.
